About the Bangalore University

Bangalore University, established in 1964 as an extension of the University of Mysore, thrives in the vibrant city known as the "I.T. Capital of India." The university comprises six faculties, including Arts, Science, Commerce & Management, Education, Law, and Engineering, with 48 Post Graduate Departments and 290 affiliated colleges. Offering 50 Post Graduate Courses, Diplomas and Certificates, the institution actively engages in international collaborations and community outreach. With a commitment to quality teaching and research in various disciplines, Bangalore University envisions making distinctive contributions to higher education, guided by its emblem 'JNANAM VIGNANA SAHITHAM.'

About the Department of Education

The Postgraduate Department of Studies in Education at Bangalore University was established in 1967, offering the M.Ed. program from its inception. The department has expanded to include M.Phil. and Ph.D. courses, adapting content for relevance. The Department of Education at Bangalore University is the umbrella for 28 Affiliated B.Ed. Colleges. Over nearly five decades, it has produced competent educators employed in roles such as Educational Planners, Administrators, and Curriculum Developers at national and international levels. Serving institutions like UGC, NCTE, NAAC, NCERT and UNESCO, the department maintains a commitment to quality and excellence despite increased enrolment. With a significant output of Ph.Ds., M.Phils., and M.Eds., along with research tools and publications, it actively contributes to teacher training and education.

About the International Conference

Embark on a transformative journey at our International Conference, "Global Trends and Challenges in Teacher Education." Recognizing the multifaceted nature of teacher education, this event focuses on the blend of teaching skills, pedagogical theory, and professional competencies. In the contemporary landscape, the convergence of education, innovation, and technology shapes emerging trends, redefining the future of teaching. Geared towards teacher educators, research scholars, M.Ed. & B.Ed. students, the conference fosters a collaborative environment for dialogue on trends and challenges. Participants will explore effective approaches, bridging the gap between theory and practice, contributing to the ongoing dialogue and enhancing the quality of teacher education. Join us in shaping the future of education through this collective exploration of theory, practice and innovation.

The objectives of this Conference are:
